Powershell. And when the user deletes the file. This is when the powershell is running. I didn't take much care to notice that in the process of doing other things. Note that running using the.exe has the same error, but it does not give me a log file. As for how to write a plugin, I got a link to the source code and some sample. As for the error, it seems to be a security issue. It's probably checking the system with windows for file access permissions. The file is usually a.ini file but not always. For the user, it seems it is due to the fact that the file is being used by another process, most likely powershell. Quote: Originally Posted by GVir There is a "del" command in Windows. I think

As a small sized app, it has a handful of features designed to make your life easier. For starters, you can read the differences between two lists or grids, as well as do the same for any given column in your selections. Furthermore, with this tool, you are capable of quickly migrating data from one list or grid to another, while both items must be selected from the displayed lists or grids. { "value" : 2, "timestamp" : "2014-01-09

---

13:31:23.368" }, { "value" : 3,
"timestamp" : "2014-01-09
13:31:23.365" }, { "value" : 1,
"timestamp" : "2014-01-09
13:31:22.363" }, { "value" : 1,
"timestamp" : "2014-01-09
13:31:22.365" }, { "value" : 3,
"timestamp" : "2014-01-09
13:31:22.361" }, { "value" : 4,
"timestamp" : "2014-01-09
13:31:22.362" } ] } ] } Now you can get each item in turn for the first time. You can do so by using:

---

db.logstreams.find().forEach( function(doc) { // doc is a document returned by db.logstreams.find() // and can be treated as any other JS object 09e8f5149f

Provides fast and easy comparison of two lists, as well as removal of duplicates and migration of data from one list or grid to another. Key Features: Easy to compare lists, grids, rows and columns, remove duplicates and migrate data. Load lists and rows from Excel and Word files.

---

Option to compare by multiple columns or only one. One of the simplest, but most powerful utilities for comparing lists.

Describe what you'd like to be able to do using the feature (this is crucial!). ## Alternatives you have considered
If your request is already implemented, or you have considered a similar request for something that does not involve a major new feature, it is much more likely to be declined. This is intentional. Instead of re-

it performs a numerical comparison between all lines. 2.
Compare two listA and listB by columns/fields: it performs a 1-1 comparison between all rows in these lists, even when their number of lines are different. 3. Remove duplicates from listA or listB: it removes one or more duplicates from either list. 4. Remove duplicates from one list and migrate selected values from listA to listB: it removes one or more duplicates from listA, and then it migrates selected values from that list to listB. 5. Compare two lists by columns/fields and migrate data: it allows you to compare two lists and migrate selected data from one list to another. I've heard of you and your apps, and find them to be a great resource.

But... I have one problem: I run a Mac and, while I can use Mac apps on my PC, I can't use PC apps on my Mac. So, when I run your app on my Mac, I can't see the Mac-specific Applesque controls like "collections." Since you made such a great app, I'm getting a little nervous about starting using it without knowing what I'm missing and seeing it crash. Please fix this bug so that your users can see all the features you were able to fit into this great app. Thank you for your time and talent. My sincere compliments on a great app.

-Jonathan I have a problem when I try to use this app from a Mac, with mac terms. The app window appears very big, just like it had double the window, and makes the whole screen bigger than it needs to be. I have already double checked my working and privacy settings. [url= what to do[/url]
