What's new:

FROM HERE TO THE END OF THE WORLD IS FOR YOU. LEAVING EGGWITTOO AND WELCOMING YOU TO THE LAND BETWEEN GREETINGS, and welcome to the second promotional video for Tadotsu's upcoming fantasy action RPG. Today we're going to talk about Tadotsu's latest title, The New Fantasy Action RPG - Tarnished Prince, which was the first action RPG developed by Tadotsu until now. During the development of this project, Tadotsu-san utilized the knowledge he accumulated from the completion of his last project Eggwitu, and decided to try his hand at an action RPG. Tadotsu-san questioned whether it was possible to create such a game, and there was a great deal of doubts, but when he put his mind to it as he had said in a previous interview, the player might be able to enjoy an action RPG that felt like playing a video game. One reason is that Tadotsu-san wanted to develop an RPG that combined the variety of action elements with role-playing elements while maintaining a frame similar to a traditional RPG. Tadotsu-san also wanted to utilize the power of the Nintendo Switch to create the most fantastic contents possible, aiming to exceed expectations. If you would like to read more about it, you can find additional information and features on Nintendo's official website. Tadotsu-san would like to convey a few words from the beginning of The New Fantasy Action RPG - Tarnished Prince. It's been a while since Eggwitu was released, so many changes may have been made to this project. It may be that the things you previously saw on the screen are not in this project, or even if they are, the way they're framed and drawn might be. Eggwitu was a multi-player game while this project is designed for single players, so there might be a downside to a player purchasing the game for the second time. However, just like Eggwitu, Tarnished Prince will be very easy to play with
