Neuerball is a special ball where an off-screen ball is matched against footage of a real-world player performing on the pitch. Neuerball is triggered when the player commits an offence by providing the system with a code of conduct that matches the footage. If the match of the footage and the ball matches the user-selected code of conduct, the Neuerball will be released towards the player committing the offence. Cavani Ball is a special ball where the off-screen ball is matched against the recorded movements of the player as they perform a move, exactly like a normal ball. It is a risky move because of the low likelihood of success. Cavani Ball is triggered when the user and the system match and the user attempts a move in which he predicts the ball will be thrown towards him. The new Physics Engine in FIFA 22 is much more realistic and accurate, allowing players to accelerate and brake with accuracy. Addressing the depth of the field, animations have been improved to provide a more detailed representation of the physicality of players, and the special balls have been tuned to provide a better match between the on-field player and the gameplay. New Player model FIFA 22 introduces realistic facial animation and shape together with a new muscle system. The engine integrates more accurate weight estimation, which means less collisions and dribbles against the body. The body was improved to be more accurate, with more muscle definition and weight distribution. The muscles were modeled on a more natural response, with the left and right sides of the body being represented in the correct balance. The upper limbs were better articulated to provide even more realistic control, and the realistic muscle system allows you to move your arms and legs with a more accurate response. The head now has better muscle definition and a full body shape, with realistic weight distribution that is accurate and fully immersive. The Player model also includes more visible clothing than ever before, as players will now be identified by their playing kit, with the exact kit, shirt sponsor and brand identified on each player. The deeper neural network has been enhanced to improve its performance even further, and it has been merged with the facial animation system and the physics simulation, improving movement in the best way possible. New Player Skills Improvements have been made to the game's controls, with the "Ghost" button that is used in a myriad of ways such as pressing backwards or pressing the corresponding button on the
