I always wanted to have something special. Something unique. It was a very long time ago and I remember seeing myself looking at something I wanted to have and I knew it would be something I would remember. It was in school, in my art class, and I just look at my door and see it. It was only a small part, but I knew it would be something I would remember. I have always been looking forward to the time when I will get my own painting and it will be a part of my life.
