Following our existing policy of supporting popular media, we have added the DVD release of the 80s TV series Tanya.

<http://www.myliveskip.com> is still an affiliate site for the programme, but it seems as if this supplier may not be able to be contacted directly. Our policy is to seek the widest source of support for the programmes we produce and we have therefore decided to add this to our list of official suppliers. For other official 80s programmes, please go to <http://www.myliveskip.com/series.html> This release is free for anyone to download, however, if you are planning on selling your work, please pay the author for the use of the material, ideally on a reciprocal sale system.
