Hence it is the perfect starting point for the techno and dance music producer. FL Studio is ideal for all forms of music, since it not only allows you to play, arrange, edit, and master music, but it also provides you with individual functions to create whatever you need for different genres, so you can make songs for small jukeboxes or for future releases, and you can mix and master songs in FL Studio in the same way as you do with any other DAW - and by using some of the production features, such as Beat Maker, MIDI Insert and the built-in EQ. With over 20 years of development, the FL studio Producer Edition is just the right start for your musical journey. FL Studio is designed for producers who prefer a clean, intuitive and user-friendly environment. However, many enthusiasts used to using another DAW will find it to be an excellent starting point for electronic music and other genres.
