
Oracle Jinitiator 1.1.8.2 Free Download For Windows 7 32 Bit ((TOP))

If you use Windows Vista, the situation is a little more complex. There is a couple options: Install oracle's sun java vernice for vista (see the link on the oracle site). This should fix the problem. Install oracle's sun java vernice for vista (see the link on the oracle site). This should not fix the problem. Instead it will create a sub-system (section) of oracle's JRE that will be responsible for running the Forms plugin. This will be like a virtual JRE. It will work, but will not be able to load the Forms plugin. Use the version of the JVM you download from oracle to a folder on your system. This should not be needed and it should fix the problem. This should not be needed and it will not fix the problem. Install a different oracle JRE. Update on 2012-05-22: This issue still exists with JInitiator version 1.1.8.2, so I would recommend the solutions below: Update to JInitiator version 1.3. Install oracle's sun java vernice for vista (see the link on the oracle site). This should fix the problem. This should not fix the problem. Instead it will create a sub-system (section) of oracle's JRE that will be responsible for running the Forms plugin. This will be like a virtual JRE. It will work, but will not be able to load the Forms plugin. There is no way to add a Windows OS parameter, but changing the JRE to 7 or higher will fix the problem. Solution 2: Download the newest version of JInitiator (1.1.8.2 as of this writing) and use it. You can download it for your PC directly from the JInitiator website: <http://www.oracle.com/technetwork/middleware/forms/downloads/index-096215.html>
